Hello, everyone. Welcome to March.

There was very little reaction to my decision to drop the Monthly Survey feature, so probably I did the right thing. Special thanks, however, to a few people who did comment and who thanked me for the efforts with the Survey in the past.

Over the next few months, I will be taking the Radio HF operation on the road, appearing at a number of amateur radio fleamarkets and hamfests in Quebec and eastern Ontario. If you're attending any of these events, please drop by the Radio HF display and say hello. The list of upcoming event, together with notices of which events Radio HF will be participating in, appear in the Hamfest/Fleamarket Zone each month.

The 20th anniversary edition of the SWL Winterfest gets under way on March 8 in Kulpsville, Pennsylvania. I will be there and look forward to meeting many of the Radio HF Internet Newsletter subscribers again this year.

Just a brief note to let you know that you will soon be receiving information on the annual Baillie Birdathon. A record number of you generously helped me out in this fundraising activity last year. I sincerely hope that you will choose to contribute to this important cause again this year. Watch for a special e-mail about this coming your way in the next week or so.

The Monthly Special Zone for March features St. Patrick's Day, Daylight Saving Time, the first day of Spring, Newspapers in Education Week and Peace Corp Week.

Have a great month and please consider sending along a link or two to share with your fellow subscribers.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

http://webexhibits.org/daylightsaving/index.html

The implementation of Daylight Saving Time has been fraught with controversy since Benjamin Franklin first conceived of the idea. Even today, regions and countries routinely change their approaches to Daylight Saving Time. Here, you can learn about the history of daylight saving (or as some may say, daylight shifting), the standardization of time, and when regions around the globe spring ahead and fall back. Enjoy!

SGC

Based in Bellevue, Washington, SGC has been manufacturing HF equipment for more than 30 years, and has a worldwide reputation for quality and dependability - for NO COMPROMISE communications. For the last 30+ years, SGC has developed a series of HF SSB radiotelephones, amplifiers, power supplies and accessories; designed with increasingly sophisticated engineering principles. SGC has continued to be an industry leader, also designing antenna coupling systems and antennas to meet various application needs. In the mid 1980s, the Smartuner(TM) antenna coupler revolutionized the ease of automated antenna tuning. Today, a variety of Smartuners exist to fit every market and use imaginable. They are used worldwide on military vehicles, commercial oil rigs and in ham shacks.

The SGC webpage is an excellent source of information about the company, its products, including on-line manuals for all products, plus a technical support page with links to user groups for their various products.

Please visit the Products page at

THE RADIO ZONE

DX ASIA

http://www.dxasia.info/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

If you're interesting in broadcasting in Asia, particularly the sub-continent, you'll want to check out this page from Alok Dasgupta and Victor Goonetilleke. DXAsia was "invented" over a meal in a Dutch restaurant, which seems a rather unlikely place to discuss a Web site focusing on radio in South Asia. But some of the best ideas are conceived in strange places. The idea behind the site couldn't be simpler: to create a place on the Web where the latest schedules, news and information about radio broadcasts from and to South Asia can always be found.

MONITORING TIMES SHORTWAVE CENTRAL BLOG

http://mt-shortwave.blogspot.com/

VIA Rachel Baughn, Brasstown, North Carolina

Welcome to the Monitoring Times shortwave blog. Here you will find broadcast information including loggings, tips, QSLing, pirate/clandestine, and last-minute news that does not make it to my monthly column.

MONITORING TIMES MILCOM MONITORING BLOG

http://mt-milcom.blogspot.com/

VIA Rachel Baughn, Brasstown, North Carolina

Welcome to the Monitoring Times Milcom blog. Here you will find material that does not make my monthly column in the magazine.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING TRAINING SERIES

http://www.tpub.com/content/neets/14182/

VIA Rodney Jones, Fanny Bay, British Columbia

Here is a good and clearly written training course, explaining wave and antennae theory, that I recently found and am enjoying reading:

ANTENNEX ONLINE MAGAZINE ABOUT ANTENNAS

http://www.antennex.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Regardless of what kind of radio, or how expensive it is, the one thing it must have is an antenna to enable it to work. No matter how much money invested, your money will be wasted unless you have a decent antenna connected to your equipment. That is where antenneX comes in. antenneX is about antennas and related subjects, such as propagation, feed lines, ground systems, and of course, antennas of all sorts. Our primary goal is to provide a place for exchange of information and publish some thought-provoking ideas about ways to get out the strongest signal possible for specific needs. And, if one reads our articles with an open mind, who knows what solutions may be found to make this hobby even more fun. Our articles are written by some of the leading authorities on the subject.

THE K8CX HAM GALLERY

http://hamgallery.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This is an excellent page of information for ham radio operators, and those with a general interest in radio. There are photos of ham radio stations, QSL cards, DX audio clips, and lots more.

VE6JY DON MOMAN

http://www.andor.net/~ve6jy/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

One of the most famous ham radio stations in Canada is Don Moman's set-up in Lamont, Alberta, northeast of Edmonton. The 80-acre antenna farm is really something to see. This page takes you on a guided tour, including photographs, of this impressive installation.

A DOMAIN FOR MICROWAVE AMATEUR RADIO

http://www.wa1mba.org/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

The primary purpose of this site, and this domain for that matter, is the promotion of amateur radio microwave activity. Some of the items have sounds associated - click on the item, and your browser should download the sound and play it for you - sometimes this takes a while, sounds can be larger than images.

THE GENERAL ZONE

WINGS-WOMEN'S INTERNAITIONAL NEWS GATHERING SERVICE

http://www.wings.org/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

WINGS is an all-woman independent radio production company that produces and distributes news and current affairs programs by and about women around the world. WINGS programs are used by non-commercial radio stations, women's studies, and individuals. Programs can be heard on local radio stations, on shortwave, on the internet, and on cassettes. The WINGS Mailing List provides updates on stories and new information about women's media.

JOHN LABOVITZ E-ZINE LIST

http://www.e-zine-list.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

This is a list of electronic zines around the world, accessible via the Web, FTP, email, and other services. The site is maintained by a group of volunteer editors. For those of you not acquainted with the zine world, "zine" is short for either "fanzine" or "magazine," depending on your point of view. Zines are generally produced by one person or a small group of people, done often for fun or personal reasons, and tend to be irreverent, bizarre, and/or esoteric. Zines are not "mainstream" publications -- they generally do not contain advertisements, are not targeted towards a mass audience, and are generally not produced to make a profit. An "e-zine" is a zine that is distributed partially or solely on electronic networks like the Internet.

DAVE BROSHA ARCTIC PHOTOGRAPHY

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Holding a passion for the world and an eye for the beauty it contains, northern adventure / landscape photographer Dave Brosha is on a continual journey to seek out and capture some of the most extreme, and pristine environments in the world. In addition to living throughout northern Canada for much of his life, Dave - along with his beautiful wife, Erin - have also lived in Asia and have traveled extensively through both the many provinces and territories of their native country and numerous countries abroad.
This site features amazing galleries of photographs from the Yukon, Nunavut and the Northwest Territories.

EARTH OBSERVATORY

http://earthobservatory.nasa.gov/

VIA Frank Bigony, Arlington, Texas

The purpose of NASA's Earth Observatory is to provide a freely-accessible publication on the Internet where the public can obtain new satellite imagery and scientific information about our home planet. The focus is on Earth's climate and environmental change. In particular, we hope our site is useful to public media and educators.

AIRCHIVE

http://airchive.com/

VIA Frank Bigony, Arlington, Texas

Billed as the "Webseum of Commercial Aviation", this site will be of interest to any aviation buffs. It offers time-tables, maps, plane-spotting information, etc.

VIRTUAL TOURIST

http://www.virtualtourist.com/

VIA Len Coombs, Manitowoc, Wisconsin

If anyone likes to travel this is a great help. It covers the world and tells where to go and how to get there together with all the info you need to enjoy the trip.

LIBRIVOX

http://www.librivox.org/

VIA Elmer Standish, Courtenay, British Columbia

LibriVox volunteers record chapters of books in the public domain and release the audio files back onto the net. The goal is to make all public domain books available as free audio books. We are a totally volunteer, open source, free content, public domain project.
